Mangos Indian Restaurant - www.mangos.lk

I am pleased to provide this recommendation for the exceptional website Lucy Turnbull designed for Mangos Indian Restaurant, completed in under three weeks.

When Mangos were considering our online presence, we needed a website that would capture the vibrant essence of our authentic Indian cuisine while providing customers with a seamless digital experience. Despite the tight timeline of just 21 days, Lucy delivered a complete, fully-functional website that exceeds expectations.

We feel Mangos website immediately strikes visitors with its warm, inviting visual design. The rich colour palette perfectly reflects the bold and aromatic flavours of Indian cuisine, creating an emotional connection before customers even scroll. The homepage features stunning food and spice photography carefully chosen by Lucy that make our dishes look even more irresistible and vibrant, while the clean layout ensures information is easy to find. Every design element was carefully considered – from This is not merely a brochure website; it is a fully-functional digital restaurant platform. Customers can browse the complete menu and place orders with just a few clicks through the seamless online ordering system. The integrated payment gateway ensures secure transactions. Given that most customers browse menus on phones, the mobile-responsive design was critical – and the site performs flawlessly across all devices.

The digital menu display presents dishes beautifully with clear descriptions, pricing, and categories. A stunning photo gallery takes visitors on a visual journey through the restaurant's ambiance and signature dishes. Google Maps integration helps customers find the location instantly, while social media connectivity encourages ongoing and consistent engagement across platforms.

Working closely with the Mangos team, Lucy integrated our existing menus and photographs while providing multiple examples to choose from for content presentation. This collaborative approach ensured the final website truly represented our brand vision.

Behind the beautiful design lies robust technical infrastructure. The site loads quickly, functions reliably, and provides administrators with an easy-to-manage backend. SEO foundations have been laid to help Mangos rank well in local search results.

The Mangos website stands as a testament to what can be achieved with creative vision, technical expertise, and efficient project delivery – all completed in under three weeks. It successfully captures the warmth and flavour of Indian hospitality while providing

I wholeheartedly recommend Lucy's website design services to any restaurant seeking a stunning online presence that drives real business results.

In addition, Lucy created stunning menus, flyers and promotions for online and offline use using various digital media applications. The format and design of the website was duplicated across these media formats so as to show our brand designs consistently
